 turn to Walnut Springs tomorrow.
 A gentleman by the name of Stone was here today from Hearne with a wagon load of apples which he retailed out and for which he found a ready sale. The remarkable thing about it was that they were Leon county apples. They were grown between Jewett and the Trinity river, and were real nice apples. The farmer who raised them shipped a carload of them to Hearne and Mr. Stone purchased his from this car. It all goes to show what can be done in Texas, and is a further argument that in diversification lies the salvation of the farmer.

 Wm. B. Youngblood of that city and they will reside there. Miss Stella's friends in Bryan wish for her much happiness.

NEW TENT ARRIVED.
 The new tent for the Harrison Theater Company arrived by the 1, and G. N. yesterday afternoon, and no sooner was it taken from the train than it was hustled over to the show grounds and a force of hands set to work to get it ready for the show last night. They got it ready all right and notwithstanding the cool north wind, the audience was perfectly comfortable.
BRYAN'S MAYOR AT AUSTIN.
 Austin, Texas, Sept. 24.—Mayor Maloney of Bryan was here today with $51,000 of municipal improvement bonds which he submitted to the attorney general for approval. The proceeds of the sale of these bonds are to be spent for a new city hall and a new municipal water plant.—Houston Post.
 Judge J. W. Doremus accompanied Mayor Maloney to Austin and they had not returned when the Eagle went to press, though they were expected on the afternoon train. It could not be learned definitely whether or not the bonds had been approved by the Attorney General, but it is presumed they were, as Judge Doremus told Secretary Hines in a long distance conversation that the "bonds were all right."

AT THE TENT THEATER.
 On account of the late arrival of the tent, and "A Story of the Hills" being a big scenic production, Mr. Harrison knew he could not get ready and give a satisfactory performance of this heavy play so decided to present "The Cowboy Visitor," a society comedy, a play where the scenes were laid in New York. It is a very pleasing story with a good plot and the best comedy presented so far by this company. Each and every member handled their respective roles in a first class manner, and the production was well received by the large audience.
 Tonight they will present Chas.
 Harrison's 4 act Western comedy drama, "The Black Hawk Mine." The scenes are laid at a mining camp.
 The plot is very original and very sensational story with thrilling climaxes and the comedy situations are really funny. Mr. Harrison as "Solomon" will certainly entertain you. This popular company will remain one more week giving an entire change of plays.
